

ASTHMA FREE SCHOOL ZONE

The Current and Expansion Model Program

The Asthma Free School Zone (AFSZ) program aims to keep children in school through raised environmental health awareness and improved air quality in and around schools. Nearly 100 public schools have participated in the AFSZ core program since it began on the Lower East Side in 2001.

The New Expansion Model

After years of delivering direct service, the AFSZ is offering a new expansion model program that enables individual schools to implement and sustain the AFSZ program by themselves and into the future.

All NYC schools are eligible to participate in the expansion model program, which will be overseen by School Safety Committee and/or School Leadership Team members with resources, training and phone support from the AFSZ.
